VCAT GUARDIANSHIP AND ADMINISTRATION VOLUME

ANSTAT | LEGISLATION

“While there is anecdotal evidence of financial abuse and exploitation of donors in relation to enduring powers of attorney, the real extent of such abuse and exploitation is difficult to assess.”

Victorian Attorney General, Robert Hulls,
Second Reading Speech on the Instruments
(Enduring Powers of Attorney) Bill 2003.

On 1 April 2004 substantial amendments to the Instruments Act 1958 (in relation to enduring powers of attorney) came into effect, broadening the jurisdiction of the Victorian Civil and Administrative Tribunal (VCAT) Guardianship List. The Guardianship and Administration Act 1986 has also undergone substantial amendment in recent years. Anstat, in conjunction with VCAT, is releasing a new Guardianship and Administration volume to accompany the VCAT Laws and Procedure master volume. The volume includes commentary on the Guardianship and Administration Act 1986, Part XIA of the Instruments Act 1958, and also on the Medical Treatment Act 1988. The commentary gives emphasis to the practical operation of the legislation and the procedure of the Guardianship List. There is extensive cross-referencing to related legislation, regulations and rules.
